

About the “Natural Products Database”

The “Natural Products Database” contains several records displaying natural products found in different laboratories and research groups. The list indicates availability of the compounds. Contact ChemNet for further information.

If you also wish to post reference compounds available in your laboratory please send us the list as follows:

Compound name	Cpd No.	Structure	Amt (mg)